I. Declaration of Rita Cosby [D.E. 82]

As set forth the in accompanying memorandum of law, this Court should strike portions of Rita Cosby's declaration because the statements expressed therein are: (1) not based on personal knowledge; (2) full of inadmissible evidence in the form of hearsay, conclusions, pure opinion, confidential source information, and character evidence; and (3) directly contradictory to her deposition testimony.

II. Declaration of Bruce Littlefield [D.E. 71]

As set forth the in accompanying memorandum of law, this Court should strike portions of Bruce Littlefield's declaration because the statements expressed therein are: (1) not based on personal knowledge; (2) full of inadmissible evidence in the form of hearsay, conclusions, pure opinion, character evidence; and (3) directly contradictory to his deposition testimony.

As set forth in the accompanying memorandum of law, this Court should strike certain transcripts of articles and interviews attached to the declarations of Rita Cosby, Bruce Littlefield, and Elizabeth McNamara. These transcripts are unauthenticated, contain inadmissible hearsay, were never turned over in discovery, and there is no evidence Cosby or Littlefield had knowledge of, or even possession of, said articles prior to the publication of Blonde Ambition.

For the foregoing reasons, the Court should GRANT this Motion and STRIKE the following exhibits and partial exhibits attached to Cosby's Motion for Summary Judgment:
